SOON TO BE LAUNCHED

Gunston Hall at Virginia ShipBuilding Plant Will Leave Ways Within Next Two Weeks—Rivet in Keel Driven May 30 by President Wilson

With the launching in the next two weeks of the $2,000,000 steamship, Gunston Hall, the first rivet into whose keel was driven by President Wilson at Alexandria, Va., and the launching of the $1,750,000 steamship at New London, Conn., the United States Steamship Company will have placed into the water within two months something like $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 worth of additions to the American Merchant Marine. Altogether this new company will then have about 50,000 tons of shipping afloat. Every 30 days thereafter the company expects to add from 8,000 to 10,000 tons of bottoms.

There is probably no more romantic story than that of the "coming back" of Charles W. Morse. Today his new company, the United States Steamship Company, has on its books $140,000,000 of contracts for 88 ships of which 56 ships are for private parties and the remainder for the Government, and upon all of which forfeiture deposits have been made, thus insuring to his company its profits whether the ships are carried through to completion or not. In fact, a cancellation would not be resented for there is more business knocking at the company's doors, awaiting only the opportunity of being placed upon its calendar.

In addition to having built up a shipbuilding concern with three shipyards, two in Connecticut, and one in Alexandria, Mr. Morse has acquired for his company the control of five ocean steamship companies in the transatlantic and coastwise service, and the Hudson Navigation Company which operates a fleet of five large vessels and small boats on the Hudson River between New York City, Albany and Troy.

Mr. Morse's company also owns outright the New York and Buaffio Steamship Company, organized to operate a freight and barge transport service between New York City and Buffalo by way of the Hudson River, the Barge Canal, and the Great Lakes. For this service the company proposes to construct 300 or more steel power-driven canal boats, some of which will be placed in an express service which will make non-stop trips between New York City and Buffalo in 96 hours.

Mr. Morse's company employes now more than 6,000 men. But for the scarcity of labor, there would be 8,000 to 10,000 men at work in its three shipbuilding plants now, and the payroll is being added to as rapidly as the demobilization of the army and the accompanying availability of labor make it possible.

The United States Steamship Company is a $25,000,000 corporation. In two and a half years of its existence it has paid 23 1-2 per cent on its outstanding stock, and is now paying dividends every two months at the annual rate of 9 per cent, with unofficial intimations that the rate is very likely to be raised to an annual rate of 12 or 15 per cent

Rivet Driven by Wilson.

Since Mr. Morse began rehabilitating himself he has had two moments which probably were the proudest of his entire life. The first was when he saw Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, drive the first rivet into the keel of the first of the 24 steel steamships for which Morse's company had received a contract from the Emergency Fleet Corporation. This was on Memorial Day, May 30, 1918. The keel was laid on a steel 8-way plant, constructed in the world's record time of 85 days. The second proud moment was when Mr. Morse stood besides Mrs. Morse and his three sons at the head of the launching ways at Groton, Conn., as Mrs. Morse christened the 8800-ton ship Tollard, the first of the steel boats to take to the water.

Mr. Morse's sons were there because they had worked side by side with and for him in the development of the company. The United States Steamship Company had been formed from business motives, but the moment that war loomed patriotism succeeded the commercial keynote. C. W. Morse told his boys that while he understood the feeling that had impelled them to apply for positions in the military field, he felt their training in shipbuilding fitted them for more effective service around the ways than at the front. The $49,000,000 of contracts for the Government were taken with a view to making the best possible contribution to the country's forces in the shortest possible time and at the lowest possible cost. With the assistance of his boys Mr. Morse worked out the problem so that while the contracts were on what is known as the "cost-plus" plan, the actual total costs to the government figures less than would be regarded as a reasonably low cost owing to the thoroughness with which Mr. Morse overlooked even the smallest items of construction costs on the Government contracts.

GOLD SHOWS DECLINE

Experts Declare Shortage of Metal of Serious Naional Concern.

Marked reduction in America's gold output and an apparent decline in the world's supply of the metal presents a problem of serious national concern as well as one of international gravity.

Such is the view of the special committee of gold experts, whose report to Secretary Lane of the Interior Department was made public yesterday. The findings of the committee headed by Hennen Jennings, consulting engineer of the Bureau of Mines, are of interest not only to the gold mining industry, but also to the financial and business men of the nation as having an important bearing on finance and credits and the consequent prosperity of the country.

Suggestions as to possible remedial measures for maintaining the visible gold reserve include the curtailment of the use of gold for manufacturing purposes and a call by the government on the public to turn in hoarded gold.

It is pointed out that in France voluntary contributions of gold by the people since the beginning of the war have amounted to more than 2,000,000 000 francs.

GRAND THEATRE

There are all sorts of theories as to how the youth of the land should be educated. Volumes have been written on the subject. But Bill Desmond in "The Pretender," to be shown at the Grand theatre tomorrow introduces some new angles hitherto untried.

Of course Bill is only an humble cowpuncher with mischievous propensities in this picture, but he undertakes to run the school in order o save a pretty girl from starvation. Though he doesn't know anything about book-larnin', he uses the six-shooter and lariat to such good educational effect that the school blossoms under his tender care.

Cliff Smith directed this picture and it is said to be a humdinger for action and laughs.

GENERAL PERSHING NOT A PARTY MAN

Chicago, Jan. 6.—If General Pershing ever had any political affiliations, no member of his family ever knew it, James F. Pershing, the general's brother said here, when inquiries were made of the American leader in France.

"I don't believe John ever intimated whether he belonged to any political party," the brother said. "He was at West Point when he was 20 years old, and he's been a soldier ever since. He's been all over the world, and I don't suppose he had an opportunity to identify himself with a party. I don't suppose there is a member of the Pershing family who could say what his politics is."

DEATH OF ROOSEVELT

Former President Passes Away Peacefully at His Home, Sagamore Hill, at an Early Hour This Morning—Clot on the Heart.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt died at his home, Sagamore Hill, at 4.15 o'clock this morning.

A clot of blood on the heart caused death, it was stated.

The Colonel went to bed last night feeling well.

The end was peaceful. Several members of the family were at the bedside.

Roosevelt returned home Christmas day from Roosevelt Hospital, New York, where he had been ill for some time with sciatica.

The house at Sagamore Hill was closed and nobody allowed to enter the grounds after the Colonel died. It was stated that physicians would issue an official announcement later in the day.

Colonel Roosevelt was sixty years old, having been born in New York, October 27, 1858. He was the twenty-sixth President of the United States, having succeeded to the Presidency on the death of William McKinley, who was shot and killed at Buffalo, N. Y.

His health has not been good for some time. In fact he had left Roosevelt Hospital only a short time ago and had gone home. Shortly before that he had undergone an operation at the hospital and was practically deaf as a result of it.

The life of the former President was filled with strife on one hand, and preparation for even more strenuous public life on the other. It was popularly believed, in fact, that Roosevelt would make an effort to become President again at the next national election.

FAIRBANKS AT THE RICHMOND.

Mr. Fairbanks portrays the role of a cavalry lieutenant in this photoplay and he exhibits some unusual horsemanship which will prove thoroughly enjoyable. The story is one of exceptional interest and altogether, this picture should be warmly appreciated.

VIOLENCE IN BERLIN

Germans in Full Retreat With Formation of New Army Impossible

Berlin, Jan. 6.—One million well-equipped Polish troops are reported moving on Berlin. Drunk with their success in the regions through which they have been tearing, they intend to hoist the red flag over this capital.

It is believed here that the Spartacus group is waiting for the Poles' invasion of East Prussia to materialize, whereupon the German extremists will stab what remains of Germany in the back.

The Germans are in full retreat before the Poles. The formation of a German voluntary army to stem the invading tide has been a failure.

Violence reigns in Berlin. The waiters are still on strike. They broke up various establishments in the Berlin suburbs and robbed one place of 27,500. A watchman was murdered in a prominent hotel and the place was robbed of $25,000.

Opinions differ as to whether the Spartacus group will be able to undertake a coup before the national constitutional assembly meets. At any rate, the group is quiet now.

DEATH OF MR. ROOSEVELT

One of our oldest, most generally known and estemed citizens was found dead in his bed this morning, and while the news of the sudden and unexpected death of Alfred G. Uhler was passing from mouth to mouth or being transmitted by telephone, the death of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, was announced, the ex-President having passed away at his home at Sagamore Hill at an early hour this morning. His decease was unexpected, that is to the world at large, and the news soon spread over the city.

While we write, the supplementary section of a Sunday paper lies before us. It contains pictures of prospective candidates for President next year, and Roosevelt's is among them.

Theodore Roosevelt was the twenty-sixth President of the United States, succeeding William McKinley in September, 1901, the latter having died from an assassin's bullet. He was elected President in 1904, by a large majority, and virtually served two terms. In 1912 he again announced himself as candidate for President and received 4,200,000 votes. Woodrow Wilson, however, was elected on that occasion and re-elected in 1916. During the campaign of 1912 Mr. Roosevelt was shot by a desperado while making a speech in Milwaukee, but he kept on with his address notwithstanding his wound. The ball was never extracted.

Mr. Roosevelt kept himself prominent before the world after he left the White House, and had he lived it is believed his hat would have been found in the ring next year.

The deceased climbed rapidly from rung to rung of the ladder of fame, and although his politics made him enemies, the fact that he was one of the most illustrious Americans cannot be gain said nor resisted.

IN MEMORY OF LEE

As has been stated in the Gazette, in memory of the anniversary of the birth of Gen. Robert E. Lee, commander-in-chief of the Confederate forces, whose birthday will be observed January 19, a silver plate will be placed in the chancel rail of Christ Episcopal Church Sunday, January 19. This plate will mark the spot where Gen. Lee knelt when he was confirmed in that edifice by Bishop John Johns, of Virginia, Lee being a worshipper in his church and also a pewholder. The confirmation of General Lee took place July 17, 1853.

On this occasion a special sermon will be preached by Rev. Randolph H. McKim, D. D., rector of Epiphany Church, Washington.

Members of R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, Daughters of the Confederacy and Sons of Confederate Veterans will be invited to attend the exercises.

Rev. Dr. McKim delivered a sermon in Christ Church in 1870 upon the life and public services of Robert E. Lee. He was rector of the church at that time. Upon that occasion he took for his text the words "The chariot of Israel and the horsemen thereof," Elisha's exclamation upon witnessing the translation of Elijah. Sermons upon the great commander were delivered in all the Alexandria churches including the Jewish Synagogue that day Robert E. Lee having died that year.

R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, of Alexandria, has for many years celebrated January 19, the anniversary of the birth of Lee with an annual reunion and banquet.

Fifty one years ago the New York Herald, James Gordon Bennett's paper, which opposed Grant for the presidency, said: "If the Democrats must have a soldier for their candidate, why not General Robert E. Lee who is the best living soldier the greatest general and one of the purest men in the country today."

SOON TO BE LAUNCHED

It is announced that within about two weeks an iron steamship, costing about two million dollars, will be launched at the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation. The first rivet in the keel of this marine monster was driven by President Wilson May 30, 1918, and the name of the ship given as "Gunston Hall" by Mrs. Wilson, who was present on the occasion. Three other iron steamers of the same dimensions are being hurried towards completion at the same plant.

Our ancestors were proud of the small wooden vessels which were constructed in Alexandria in by-gone years. Many now living will remember the enthusiasm manifested in the latter part of the seventies and early eighties by the construction and launching of large coastwise schooners. Seven of such specimens of marine architecture were launched from 1876 to 1883, as follows: The Robert Portner, James B. Ogden, Ellwood Harlow, James Boyce, Jr., Wilson and Hunting, William T. Hart and Henry S. Culver.

Back in the thirties and forties small wooden ships and brigs were built at Robert Hunter's shipyard on the site now occupied by the Alexandria County Lighting Company at the foot of Wilkes street.

Timber for these ships was cut in Fairfax county a short distance below Alexandria. No one then living ever dreamed that iron ships costing two million dollars each, would ever be construced in Alexandria, especially upon what was then Baptising Cove.

JEANNE D' ARC

America today celebrated the 507th birthday anniversary of Joan of Arc. Secretary Josephus Daniels of the navy last night ordered the cruiser Des Moines, lying off Joan of Arc Park, in the Hudson River, to fire a salute in honor of the French heroine's birthday. In the evening Vice Admiral Albert W. Grant has been ordered to have the searchlights on all the battleships lying off New York to play on the staute of Joan of Arc.

During the last year of the recent war the statue of Jeanne d'Arc was hidden from view by barricades which had been erected around the effigy to protect it from German shells which ever and anon fell in Paris.

There is nothing now to fear from long-range guns, and Jeannie d'Arc again appears upon her pedestal in the French capital.

On July 14, 1918, the anniversary of the destruction of the Bastile was celebrated in the United States. We today observed the anniversary of the birth of the Maid of Orleans, who began to shine in history from the time she perished at the stake, or long before the Bastile was razed. Jeanne d'Arc long since took her place among the brightest stars in the constellation of great women of the world.

THE POPE AND THE PURITAN

The Pope puts himself shoulder to shoulder with the President on the subject of a league of nations, and in support of a peace founded on the rock of justice and "equality of rights."

As an exchange observes, he speaks for millions of people in Europe and the United States, and his unreserved indorsement of Mr. Wilson's program cannot fail to exercise a strong moral influence.

A century or two ago it would have seemed impossible that a great world reform should be headed by a lineal descendant of the Scotch Covenanters and the representative of the Roman Catholic Church. And yet this is the spectacle which we are witnessing today. If there can be such a league between once bitterly hostile religious elements, why is a league of nations impracticable?

SIX DESTROYERS BACK

Philadelphia, Jan. 6.—Without ceremony or any more formality than obtains in peace times, six destroyers that saw long and active service in foreign waters arrived at the Philadelphia navy yard yesterday.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Dr. William Harry Heck, Curry professor of education at the University of Virginia, died at the hospital of that institution Saturday of pneumonia, following influenza.

Following information given ananymously over the telphone Saturday, officers raided the home of J. A. Shelton in Danville, and found a still made of a ham boiled and copper tubing in the kitchen, where it was operated on the cooking range. Hops, malt and beer were found, also 50 gallons of 100-proof corn liquor which, the officers maintain, was manufactured on the premises. Shelton disappeared before the officers arrived.

Following the imposition of jail sentences and fines imposed upon three sailors, alleged ringleaders in the New Year's morning riot, heavy naval provost patrols were Saturday night placed throughout the business and negro districts of Norfolk. Admiral Coffman announced that these guards would be maintained regularly, owing to the large number of men constantly on shore leave.

A committee selected a year ago to determine upon the place of holding the Baltimore Annual Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church South, has selected Staunton, Va. The conference will open March 26, with Bishop Eugene R. Hendricks, Kansas City, Mo., presiding. Each of the 210 charges in Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia and the District of Columbia will be represented by the pastors, while each of the eight districts will be represented by eight laymen from a district.

A prosperous banker would meet a lady of means matrimonially inclined. All communications strictly confidential. Address "S." Gazette Office. 5-2t.

That influenza is making a steady increase in Lynchburg is shown by reports of new cases to the health office, the reports for the last three days being 46, 56 and 39 new cases, respectively. The last report shows a total of 351 cases inside the city. In the suburbs the malady is believed to be worse than in the city, so that there must be considerably more than a thousand cases in and around the city. The last report includes 302 whites and 49 negroes. There have been no deaths since January 1 among negroes, during which time six or eight white adults have died.

Shipping in the lower Chesapeake and Hampton Roads ports was almost completely halted early yesterday afternoon by a heavy snowstorm, driven across the bay and along the coast water approaches by a 28-mile wind. Ferry schedules were either interrupted or halted entirely, while all but the stanchest seagoing ships dropped anchors in havens to await more favorable weather. All regular line steamers were delayed owing to the hazards of navigation, but so far no accidents or disasters have been reported. Norfolk was last night under a 4-inch white blanket, and the storm showed no signs of abatement.

It is not necessary to go to France to put your foot on French soil. There is fifty acres of new made land almost in the heart of Norfolk composed entirely of soil brought from France within the last year. It was brought over by naval transports. When American transports sailed for France from American shores during the war they carried troops and supplies. When they started back to America there were no cargoes for them in French ports, so it was necessary for some of them to carry something for ballast. There being nothing else handy, tons upon tons of French soil was loaded into the holds of returning ships just to balance them in case they encountered rough weather on the voyage.

BARS BLANK WARRANTS

Opinion Approved by Attorney-General of United States. Sent Danville Official.

Danville, Va., Jan. 6.—It is a violation of the Constitution of the United tates for an officer to search train passengers' luggage for liquor on a blanket warrant, according to an opinion prepared by Richard Evelyn Byrd, Federal prosecutor for this district, and approved by the United States Attorney-General. This was revealed here by United States Commissioner Meade R. Flynn, who has a copy of the opinion which he asked for in a recent letter.

There has been much difference of opinion as to the legality of searching trains on warrants specifying only the number of the train. Commissioner Flynn, believing the act of officers so doing to be illegal, wrote to Mr. Byrd and asked for an opinion. This was prepared by him and sent to Attorney-General, who approved it.

After citing cases bearing on this issue Mr. Byrd in his opinion says:

"I do not think that a general warrant to search a railway train justifies an officer in searching the baggage of persons who happened to be traveling on the trains, nor do I think that a general warrant should issue to search any train unless the affidavit shows particularly what is to be searched for an probable cause for such search.

"The train does not belong to the passenger. He has no control over it. He is a passenger for hire and buys transportation from the railways company, and his property is not the property of the owner of the train. Should the passenger proposed to be searched under a warrant to search the train, it could not be said that the thing or place to be searched is particularly set out, because the real search is not made of the train, but of the baggage of the passengers.

"It seems to me that it would be an intolerable abuse if, officers could go through the train and tear open and search the suitcases and trunks of all the passengers."

The Federal prosecutors, ruling on the search and seizure question on trains, will not hinder the local police from carrying on their train-raiding procedure. This was made plain here Saturday, when officers, armed with the type of search warrant complained of, went aboard two Southern Express trains, overriding the objections of the conductors and searched them for liquor, securing 35 quarts. In one compartment they found two vests made from toweling with pockets for 12 pint bottles. The whisky belt was loaded.

The police contend that they are not violating any law by walking through the trains and taking off unclaimed suitcases containing liquor.

EX-KAISER UNDER KNIFE

Amsterdam Expert Performs Successful Operation on Ear

Amsterdam, Jan. 6. — William Hohenzollern, the former German Emperor, has undergone a successful operation on one of his ears. The operation was performed by Professor Lang of Amsterdam University.

Amerongen, Holland, Jan. 6.—Even the wonderful springlike weather of the New Year did not bring the former German Emperor outside of Amerongen Castle, although his condition is improving daily. The principal cause of his indisposition appears to be mental depression induced by the gradual realization of the full extent of his down fall. Recent reports from Germany are said to have accentuated this feeling.

Lack of open-air exercise and continual brooding have had such telling effect of Herr Hohenzollern's appearance that he scarcely is recognizable to those who saw him when he first came to Amerongen. His wife, who is with him almost constantly, displays much more buoyant spirits and makes every effort to cheer him.

News of the birth of another grandchild by the wife of Prince Oscar reached the former Imperial couple yesterday and subsequently several dispatches were received by them. The ex-monarch did not sit up "to see the New Year in," but attended the customary morning prayer in the castle chapel.

The von Bentincks had large shooting parties Wednesday and Thursday in the vicinity of the castle, but Herr Hohenzollern could not be induced to join them. One of the younger von Bentincks, who had been an officer in the German navy returned to Amerongen at night, having resigned his commission.

There is no sign of the immediate removal of the former Emperor, although many reports are current to that effect.

Pity for the present condition of the former German Kaiser is expressed to the by Prof. Alfred Lanz, of Amsterdam University, recently called by Professor Alfred Lanz of Lanz stated: The former Kaiser is most miserable. I would not allow him to read newspapers for news of himself or of the situation in Germany. He is exceedingly nervous and has fits of weeping."

VIRGINIA'S QUOTA $300,000

For Relief of Starving Armenians and Syrians.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 6.—Just prior to sailing for Europe, President Wilson issued a proclamation calling upon the American people to support the nation-wide campaign of the Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee for $30,000,000, as they have done on previous occasions, because of the tremendous need of 4,000,000 starving people in the eastern war zone.

The President "again calls upon the people of the United States to make even more generous contributions than they made heretofore to sustain through the winter months those, who, through no fault of their own, have been left in a starving, shelterless condition, and to help re-establish those ancient and sorely oppressed people in their former homes on a self-supporting basis."

Virginia's quota in this campaign is $300,000, and appeals for contributions will be made shortly by county chairmen throughout the State. Chairman Walker Scott declared today that the appeal of suffering humanity for relief made it necessary for the State to more than subscribe its allotment.

Does advertising pay? Well, all the most successful enterprises believe in it anyway—and many of them give the whole credit to the publicity they gave to their wares.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Five transports and the battleship North Carolina steamed into New York harbor yesterday, bringing a total of nearly 9,000 officers and men of the army and navy from France.

President Wilson, upon his return to Paris tomorrow night, will find the American commission completely organized and ready, for the real business of the Peace Conference.

Harry Tolson, 40 years old, a Washington navy yard worker, was almost instantly killed, and Mrs. Goldie Hawcken bruised and cut when an automobile owned and operated by Charles C. Sinclair, in which they were riding, collided with a tree at Eighth street and Eighth street northeast, Washington, yesterday.

A new government has been formed at Belgrade by representatives of all the Jugoslavs, Serbia, Montenegro, Bosnia, Herzegovina, Dalmatia, Croatia and Solvenia. The entente powers and neutral governments, have, it is said, been informed that the kingdom of Serbia is now the united Serbian-Croatian-Slovene kingdom.

Riga is in the hands of the Lithuanian soviet troops, according to a wireless dispatch from the Russian bolshevist headquarters received in Copenhagen. Fighting has been raging in the streets of Riga, according to the Lokal Anzeiger, of Berlin, which says the German theater has been set on fire. The German steamer Lucie Woermann is reported to have left Riga with several hundred fugitives on board.

"Germany will not yield to every peace condition that may be imposed," says Count von Brockdorff Rantzau, the new German foreign minister, in an outline of his proposed policy as published in a Copenhagen newspaper. The Berliner Tageblatt backs up the count ediorially, saying: "No peace will be signed by Germany that differs a hair's breadth from the principals enunciated in President Wilson's fourteen points which Germany accepted and which the entente—willingly or unwillingly—endorsed. Germany is ready for a Wilson peace, but will not accept any other, especially not a Clemenceau peace."

"Long live America, our friend!" arose from thousands of throats as President Wilson and his wife stepped off the special train on their arrival in Rome, and the same shout, with the same fervor and enthusiasm, bade them Godspeed as the train pulled out, leaving the Eternal City behind. It was far the most enthusiastic reception the President has received since he started on his European trip. There was as much noise as in Paris, there were as many people as in London, and more real fire and "steam" than at either capital.

The past week has witnessed a strong and general demand from the most influential British newspapers, regardless of politics, for the prompt meeting of the peace congress and prompt action to stem the tide of chaos which is threatening Germany because of the intrduction of bolshevism by way of the border states. There is a dawning recognition that if anarchy seizes central Europe the decisions of the peace congress in drawing boundaries and levying indemnities can be enforced only through military control by the allies, otherwise becoming merely "scraps" of papers."

Another attempt to float the United States transport Northern Pacific, which ran aground off Fire Island, N. Y., Wednesday, is to be made during the night. Two wrecking tugs and scows equipped with powerful machinery have anchored off shore, awaiting high water. The sea was calm today under a clear sky, creating excellent conditions for the removal of 250 members of the transport's crew. Half the crew remained on board to help the wreckers. Removal of the 2,480 soldiers aboard the Northern Pacific was completed Saturday, and the crowds who lined the beach disappeared today in the face of the cold weather.
